Our Terms and Conditions

In return for purchasing a license-key for PDFing, David Fowle grants a license for the use of one copy of PDFing for use on one computer. License-keys for PDFing and supporting files are not to be re-sold or otherwise re-distributed by the purchaser. David Fowle agrees to provide support and service for the product for a period of one year from the date of registration. The support will include free consultation by e-mail or telephone, regular reports on bug-fixes, problems and new releases of PDFing. Service will include free upgrades to new releases of PDFing as and when new features and facilities become available.

David Fowle cannot guarantee that PDFing will run without errors in all operating conditions. However we believe that the core functionality performs reliably, this belief is based on the many thousands of OS400 spooled-files being correctly converted to PDF every day, by our many customers around the world.

David Fowle will not give any information you supply to any third party nor will any of your information be published, without your express permission.
